

Part-Time Position
Non-Benefits Eligible

Minimum Qualifications:

Earned Master's, in the social sciences, humanities or a related field by time of appointment. Demonstrated experience teaching American Indian students at the university level. Some experience working with tribal government or communities.

Desired Qualifications:

PhD in the social sciences, humanities, or related field by the time of appointment. Although areas of teaching specialization are open, preferred candidates will specialize in one or more of the following: policy and planning, economic development, administration, community development, social justice, crime, education, public health, native language retention and revitalization, decolonization, intellectual property rights and the law, native arts, cultures, and literatures, and/or traditional forms of knowledge, governance, and decision making.

Close Date:

Initial close date is November 1, 2015. Applications will continue to be accepted and reviewed every week thereafter until search is closed.

American Indian Studies

American Indian Studies Seeks Part-Time Faculty Associate

The American Indian Studies Program (AIS) announces a part-time, temporary position at the Faculty Associate level to teach one or more courses in the spring of the 2016 semester. (Job #11289)

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

Responsibilities include: teach 1 or more classes in American Indian Studies, prepare coursework for classes, interact with undergraduate students in a classroom setting and individually during office hours.

DAYS AND SCHEDULE: Part-time teaching schedule to be determined by class assignment. 1 class is .20% FTE equal to 8 hours.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Applicants must submit a letter of application including a statement on how they meet the required and desired qualifications stated above, how they fit into our American Indian Studies program, strengths they will bring to the program, and a statement of their teaching philosophy. The applicant must also submit a curriculum vitae, at least two (2) representative writing samples, and the names and contact information (telephone, mailing address, or email address) for three professional references. Please send materials in PDF format to Alicia Richardson, Program Manager, at Alicia.Richardson@asu.edu. Materials will be forwarded to personnel committee for final review and selection. A background check is required for employment.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law.

<https://www.asu.edu/aad/manual/acd/acd401.html>

<https://www.asu.edu/titleIX>